

SECOND aHUS PATIENT AND FAMILY CONFERENCE

27 JUNE 2015

BEVERIDGE HALL, SENATE HOUSE, UNIVERSITY OF LONDON

Following on from the successful first conference held in 2011 this aHUS conference aims to bring patients, their families and carers and anyone with an interest in atypical Haemolytic Syndrome (aHUS) up to date with what is known about the illness.

What causes aHUS?

What is known about the part that complement plays?

What makes someone genetically predisposed to aHUS?

Why are some affected and their relatives not?

What is known about the triggers of aHUS, including transplants and pregnancy?

What patient registries can do and how further research can provide more Answers for aHUS?

The Speaker list includes Dr. Detlev Bockenhauer, Sandra Currie, Prof. Tim Goodship, Dr. David Kavanagh, Dr. Kevin Marchbank, Amy Osborne, Prof. Stephen Perkins, Prof. Neil Sheerin and Dr. Edwin Wong.

You can register on line using the following link

<https://www.kidneyresearchuk.org/get-involved/events/ahus-patient-conference> or you can register by telephone at 0800 783 2973

The conference is being organised by the Renal Association's Rare Renal Rare Disease Group for aHUS, the patient organisation aHUSUK and with support from Kidney Research UK. It is partly funded by an unconditional educational grant provided by Alexion Pharmaceutical UK, the manufacturers of Soliris.

Healthcare professionals are welcome to attend.

